

Community-Campus Partnerships for Health (CCPH) in partnership with the Clinical Scholars (Melissa Green & Gabby Diekmann) present:

The Color of Care

Debrief Discussion

Dates:

- (1) October 27, 2022
- (2) December 14th, 2022

Participants:

CCPH Partners, staff, and other stakeholders.

Presentation Summary:

Produced by Ms. Winfrey's Harpo Productions and directed by Oscar-nominated and Emmy-winning director Yance Ford, The Color of Care traces the origins of racial health disparities to practices that began during slavery and continue today with COVID-19.

CCPH Team:

- Kunga Denzongpa, PhD MPH
- Alexis Hill, BA
- Charisse S. Iglesias, PhD
- Emily Finley, MPH
- Da'Naya Mayes, MS

Contact Email:

alexis.hill@ccphealth.org

Learning Outcomes:

- Deepen our understanding of the daily injustices African Americans and other people of color experience in accessing healthcare in the US.
- Provide a space for open dialogue on the documentary, The Color of Care.
- Outline strategies to address systemic injustices in the US healthcare system.

Key Takeaways:

- On Resource Distribution: Our unpreparedness for COVID-19 cost too many lives, and we hope to plan for future pandemics and ensure that resources are distributed equitably across communities.
- On Historical Mistrust: People were fearful of testing because they believed that the testers were transmitting COVID-19.
- On Working Together: Until we are willing to be humane to one another, we won't be able to make changes.

"Of all the forms of inequality, injustice in healthcare is the most shocking and inhumane."

- Martin Luther King Jr.

Presentation + Resources

Pluto Link to the Film